💬 Ways to Ask About Likes

- What do you like doing in your free time?
- Are you into any sports?
- Do you enjoy cooking?
- What kind of music are you a fan of?

Note:

- Use -ing after like/love/enjoy:

I like reading, not "I like to read" (though both are grammatically correct, "-ing" is more common in casual speech).

Absolutely! Below are written practice exercises focused on the use of "likes" (and similar expressions) in the context of leisure and sports. These are great for beginner and intermediate learners.

Exercise 1: Fill in the blanks with the correct form of the verb in parentheses

Use the correct form of the verb after like — usually verb + -ing

1. I like _____ (play) football on weekends.
 2. She likes _____ (watch) movies in her free time.
 3. We like _____ (go) hiking in the summer.
 4. He likes _____ (ride) his bike after school.
 5. They like _____ (listen) to music while relaxing.

Exercise 2: Complete the sentences with your own ideas

Use "like(s)" + verb-ing or a noun:

1. I like _____.
 2. My friend likes _____.
 3. We like _____ during the holidays.
 4. They like _____ at the weekend.
 5. He likes _____ when he has free time.

Exercise 3: Rewrite the sentences using "like(s)"

Example:

1. They love playing basketball.
2. He enjoys reading adventure books.
3. I prefer watching football to playing it. (Hint: make it about liking both)
4. We're fond of listening to live music.

5. She's into painting landscapes.

? Exercise 4: Ask and answer questions using "like"

Write your own answers to these questions using "like":

1. What sports do you like?
→ _____
 2. What do you like doing on weekends?
→ _____
 3. Do you like watching sports or playing sports?
→ _____
 4. Does your best friend like the same activities as you?
→ _____
 5. What leisure activity do you like the most?
→ _____

Bonus – Identify the mistake

Find and correct the mistake in each sentence.

1. He like playing tennis.
2. I likes going to the gym.
3. They likes to swim.
4. We like watch movies together.
5. She like cooking on Sundays.

ii) Using Dislike

Dislike means doesn't like or don't like. Sometimes we can replace doesn't like/don't like with one-word dislike

It is used in the same way as like.

Formula: dislike+ main verb+ ing

Examples: 1. Rose doesn't like dancing in front of many people. (replace doesn't like with one word)

➡ Rose dislikes dancing in front of many people.

2. James doesn't like playing rugby

➡ James dislikes playing rugby.

3. The pupils don't like reading story books.

➡ The pupils dislike reading story books.

Here's a clear and practical guide to expressing dislikes in English, with a variety of phrases — from neutral to strong, and both formal and informal.

✕ Basic Ways to Express Dislike

- I don't like spicy food.
 - She doesn't enjoy running.
 - They don't care for loud music. (more formal)
 - He isn't keen on horror movies. (British English)
 - I'm not a fan of jazz.

✂ Stronger Expressions of Dislike

- I hate being late.
- She really dislikes rude people.
- He can't stand waiting in lines.
- I detest violence in films. (very strong)
- We absolutely hate doing paperwork.
- They loath getting up early. (formal and very strong)

📌 Note: Strong verbs like hate, detest, and loathe are used for intense dislike and should be used carefully depending on the context.

🗣️ Informal / Casual Phrases

- I can't stand that song.
 - She isn't into action movies.
 - I get annoyed by slow internet.
 - He drives me crazy when he chews loudly.
 - That kind of humor isn't my thing.

💬 Ways to Ask About Dislikes

- Is there anything you don't like doing?
 - Are you not a fan of spicy food?
 - What kind of music do you avoid listening to?
 - What's something you can't stand?

Grammar Tip:

When expressing dislike with verbs like like, love, hate, enjoy, dislike, use the -ing form of the verb:

I don't like waiting.

She hates driving in traffic

Here are several written exercises to practice using dislikes in the context of leisure and sports. These include fill-in-the-blank, sentence correction, rewriting, and personal response tasks — ideal for beginner to intermediate learners.

Exercise 1: Fill in the blanks

Use the correct form of the verb in parentheses (-ing) after expressions of dislike:

(don't like, hate, can't stand, dislike, not keen on)

4.The Use of “Would Rather... than...”

◆ What does it mean?

“Would rather...than...” is used to express a preference between two activities. In this case, those activities are related to leisure or sports.

Structure:

Subject + would rather + base verb + than + base verb

◆ I would rather play football than watch TV.

◆ She would rather go swimming than go jogging.

Examples in Leisure and Sports Context:

Sentence	Meaning
I'd rather go hiking than stay indoors.	I prefer hiking to staying inside.
He would rather play basketball than watch a movie.	He prefers playing basketball.
They'd rather dance than sing at parties.	They prefer dancing at leisure events.
We'd rather ride bikes than take the bus.	We prefer cycling over using public transport.
She'd rather do yoga than go to the gym.	She prefers yoga as a form of leisure.

★ Key Points to Remember:

- Both verbs must be in the base form (no -ing or "to"):
✓ play, go, dance
✗ to play, playing
 - “Would” can be contracted:
 - I would rather... → I'd rather...*
 - They would rather... → They'd rather...*

Practice Examples (Fill in the blanks):

- I'd rather _____ tennis than _____ TV.
- They would rather _____ at the beach than _____ in a swimming pool.
- We'd rather _____ music than _____ games.
- She'd rather _____ than _____ to the gym.
- He would rather _____ a bike than _____ a car.

LESSON: CONDUCTING A SURVEY

A survey means a research

Conducting a survey is to ask many questions to people in order to get their opinions.

Note: we can't conduct/make a survey without asking questions

What is a Survey?

A survey is a method used to collect information from people by asking them questions. It helps gather data about opinions, habits, preferences, or facts on a specific topic.

How to Conduct a Survey: Step-by-Step

1. Define Your Purpose

- Decide what you want to learn.
- Example: "How often do people participate in sports activities?"

2. Identify Your Target Audience

- Decide who you want to ask.
- Example: Teenagers, adults, sports club members, or the general public.

3. Design the Questions

- Keep questions clear and simple.
- Use different types of questions:
 - Multiple choice (select one or more answers)
 - Rating scales (e.g., 1 to 5)
 - Open-ended (write your opinion)
- Avoid leading or biased questions.

4. Choose the Survey Method

- Online (Google Forms, SurveyMonkey)
- Paper-based (handed out in person)
- Phone interviews
- Face-to-face interviews

5. Pilot Test the Survey

- Try the survey on a small group first.
- Check if questions are clear and easy to answer.
- Make necessary changes.

6. Distribute the Survey

- Send out or share the survey with your target audience.
- Use emails, social media, or physical distribution.

7. Collect Responses

- Allow enough time for people to answer.
- Monitor how many responses you get.

8. Analyze the Data

- Organize answers to find patterns or trends.
- Use charts, tables, or simple summaries.

9. Report the Findings

- Summarize key points and results.
- Present them clearly, using visuals if possible.
- Use the findings to make decisions or improvements.

Tips for a Successful Survey

- Keep it short and focused (5-15 questions).
- Make questions neutral and easy to understand.
- Respect privacy and confidentiality.
- Offer thanks or small incentives if possible.
- Follow up if response rates are low.

LESSON: DESIGNING A QUESTIONNAIRE

A questionnaire is a research tool consisting of a set of written or printed questions used to gather information from respondents. It's commonly used in surveys, research studies, evaluations, and feedback collection.

Key Features of a Questionnaire:

- Structured format: Usually includes multiple-choice, yes/no, rating scales, or open-ended questions.
- Standardized questions: Same questions are asked to all participants to ensure consistency.
- Self-administered or interviewer-administered: Can be filled out by the respondent directly (e.g., online, on paper) or asked by a researcher.

Purposes of a Questionnaire:

- To collect data on people's opinions, behaviors, experiences, or demographic information.
- To analyze trends or measure satisfaction, knowledge, or attitudes.
- To support quantitative or qualitative research.

Example:

Question: How satisfied are you with our service?

- Very satisfied
- Satisfied
- Neutral
- Dissatisfied
- Very dissatisfied

Here's a sample questionnaire about leisure and sports. It can be used for surveys, research, or general feedback from individuals. I've included a mix of multiple-choice, Likert scale, and open-ended questions.

LESSON: DESCRIBING PAST ACTIVITIES

When we are talking about past/finished activities or events it is important to use SIMPLE PAST TENSE.

Examples:

Leisure Activities (Past Simple Sentences)

1. I watched a movie with my friends last night.
2. She read a great novel during the holidays.
3. They played board games all evening.
4. We visited a museum on Saturday.
5. He listened to music while relaxing at home.
6. My family went to the beach last weekend.

7. I cooked dinner for my friends yesterday.
 8. She danced at the party until midnight.
 9. We traveled to Italy last summer.
 10. He spent the afternoon in the garden.

🏆 Sports Activities (Past Simple Sentences)

1. They played football at the park yesterday.
2. I went swimming in the lake last Sunday.
3. She trained hard for the marathon.
4. We watched the tennis final on TV.
5. He scored two goals in the match.
6. The team won the championship last year.
7. I joined a new gym in June.
8. She ran five kilometers this morning.
9. We hiked in the mountains last weekend.
10. He broke his personal record in the race.

Here's a clear and practical guide to the use of the past simple tense in English:

✓ The Past Simple Tense

★ Definition:

The past simple is used to talk about actions or events that happened and finished in the past.

🔧 Form:

◆ Regular verbs → base verb + -ed

- play → played
- watch → watched

◆ Irregular verbs → change in form

- go → went
 - eat → ate

🕒 When to Use the Past Simple Tense

1. Completed actions in the past

Something that started and finished in the past.

✓ I visited London last year.

✓ She called me yesterday.

2. A series of past actions

Events that happened one after another in the past.

✓ He opened the door, turned on the light, and sat down.

3. Past habits or repeated actions (with time expressions)

Used with used to, or adverbs of frequency like always, often, never (in the past).

✓ We often played outside as kids.

✓ She used to live in Paris.

4. Past facts or general truths

Statements that were true in the past but may not be true now.

✓ People believed the Earth was flat.

✓ He worked as a teacher before he retired.

Common Time Expressions with Past Simple:

- yesterday
- last night / week / month / year
- in 2000 / in March
- two days ago / a week ago
- when I was a child
- then / afterwards / after that

✓ They graduated in 2010.

✓ I met her two days ago.

Note:

The past simple is not used for actions that were ongoing in the past — for that, we use the past continuous.

Here's a clear explanation of the difference between regular and irregular verbs in English, especially regarding their past simple and past participle forms:

Regular vs Irregular Verbs

Feature	Regular Verbs	Irregular Verbs
Past Form Rule	Add -ed (or just -d if the verb ends in -e)	Change the whole word (no fixed rule)
Consistency	Follow a predictable pattern	Must be memorized individually
Examples	walk → walked clean → cleaned	go → went eat → ate
Past Participle	Same as past simple: worked	Often different: go → gone , see → seen

Regular Verbs

These verbs form their past simple and past participle by adding -ed.

◆ Examples:

Base Verb Past Simple Past Participle

Talk	talked	talked
Live	lived	lived
Close	closed	closed

◆ She talked to him yesterday.

◆ They have lived here for years.

Quick Tips to Tell Them Apart

- If you can add -ed to form the past tense, it's regular.
- If the word changes unpredictably (or doesn't change at all), it's irregular.
- Irregular verbs are often among the most commonly used verbs in English (be, have, go, do, get, say, etc.).

Here are adverbials of time for Past simple tense: Yesterday, last month, last year, last week, last year, last weekend, last night, Many years ago, in 2012.....

PAST TENSE OF REGULAR VERBS

Here's a list of common regular verbs in English that form the past simple tense by adding -ed. These verbs follow standard rules (no irregular forms) and are great for beginners or as a reference.

Want	wanted
Wash	washed
Watch	watched
Work	worked

Here's a list of regular English verbs that end in -e and form the past simple tense by simply adding -d (not -ed).

✓ Rule:

If a regular verb ends in -e, just add -d to form the past simple and past participle.

■ List of Regular Verbs Ending in -e → Add -d

Base Verb Past Simple

Bake	baked
Close	closed
Dance	danced
Decide	decided
Delete	deleted
Describe	described
Escape	escaped

Love	loved
Move	moved
Name	named
Phone	phoned
Race	raced
Smile	smiled
Smoke	smoked
State	stated
Use	used
Vote	voted
Wave	waved
Wipe	wiped

Pronunciation Tip:

Even though only -d is added in writing, pronunciation still follows the three main rules:

- /d/ sound: loved, played
 - /t/ sound: hoped, liked
 - /ɪd/ sound (only if the verb ends in /t/ or /d/ — doesn't apply here)

In English, some regular verbs double the final consonant (not the vowel) before adding -ed in the past simple tense. This usually happens to preserve the short vowel sound in one-syllable or stressed two-syllable verbs.

★ Rule for Doubling the Final Consonant (CVC Rule)

Double the final consonant before -ed when the verb:

1. Is one syllable and ends in a consonant-vowel-consonant (CVC) pattern (e.g., stop, plan), except when the final consonant is w, x, or y (never doubled).
 2. Is two syllables, stressed on the second syllable, and ends in CVC (e.g., prefer → preferred).

✓ List of Verbs That Double the Final Consonant Before -ed

Base Verb	Past Simple	Notes
Beg	Begged	CVC pattern
Blot	Blotted	One syllable, CVC
Clap	Clapped	One syllable, CVC
Drop	Dropped	One syllable, CVC
Grab	Grabbed	One syllable, CVC
Hop	Hopped	One syllable, CVC
Hug	Hugged	One syllable, CVC
Jog	Jogged	One syllable, CVC
Knit	Knitted	One syllable, CVC
Nod	Nodded	One syllable, CVC
Plan	Planned	One syllable, CVC
Plug	Plugged	One syllable, CVC
Rub	Rubbed	One syllable, CVC
Shop	Shopped	One syllable, CVC
Sip	Sipped	One syllable, CVC
Skip	Skipped	One syllable, CVC
Slap	Slapped	One syllable, CVC
Slip	Slipped	One syllable, CVC
Snap	Snapped	One syllable, CVC
Step	Stepped	One syllable, CVC
Stop	Stopped	One syllable, CVC
Tap	Tapped	One syllable, CVC
Tip	Tipped	One syllable, CVC
Trip	Tripped	One syllable, CVC
Whip	Whipped	One syllable, CVC
Win	won (✗ irregular)	Note: Win is irregular
Prefer	Preferred	2 syllables, stress on second
Admit	Admitted	2 syllables, stress on second
Control	Controlled	2 syllables, stress on second

✗ Final consonants NOT doubled if:

- The word ends in w, x, y → e.g., snow → snowed, fix → fixed, play → played
- The stress is not on the last syllable in two-syllable words → e.g., visit → visited, not visited

Here are concise notes about the pronunciation of regular verbs ending in -ed in English:

Pronunciation of -ed Endings

The -ed ending in regular past tense verbs can be pronounced in three different ways, depending on the final sound of the verb stem:

✓ 1. /t/ sound

Use this when the base verb ends in an unvoiced sound (except /t/):

Unvoiced sounds: /p/, /k/, /f/, /s/, /ʃ/ (sh), /tʃ/ (ch)

Examples:

- help → helped /helpt/
- kiss → kissed /kɪst/
- laugh → laughed /læft/
- watch → watched /wɒtʃt/

✓ 2. /d/ sound

Use this when the base verb ends in a voiced sound (except /d/):

Voiced sounds include: /b/, /g/, /v/, /z/, /ʒ/, /dʒ/, vowels, and diphthongs

Examples:

- play → played /pleɪd/
- clean → cleaned /kliːnd/
- beg → begged /bɛgd/
- allow → allowed /əˈlaʊd/
- rub → rubbed /rʌbd/

✓ 3. /ɪd/ or /əd/ sound

Use this when the base verb ends in /t/ or /d/

Examples:

- want → wanted /ˈwɒntɪd/
- decide → decided /dɪˈsaɪdɪd/
- need → needed /ˈniːdɪd/
- wait → waited /ˈweɪtɪd/

💡 Quick Tips:

- The pronunciation rule applies to regular verbs only.
- The spelling stays the same (-ed) regardless of the pronunciation.
- Listen carefully to native speakers to get used to these patterns.

✕ Irregular Verbs

These verbs do not follow the -ed rule. Their past forms often change completely or stay the same.

◆ Examples:

Base Verb Past Simple Past Participle

Go	went	gone
Eat	ate	eaten
Buy	bought	bought
Cut	cut	Cut

◆ He went to school.

◆ She has gone to work.

◆ I bought a new phone yesterday.

Pay attention

There are some verbs often confused

Infinitive	Present Participle	Past Simple	Past participle+ meaning
1. lay	laying	Laid	laid: to put sth/sb in a certain position
Lie	lying	Lay	lain: to put one's body in resting position on a surface
Lie	lying	Lied	lied: tell an untruth

2. hang	hanging	Hanged	hanged (a man)

Remind:

-Inf. = Infinitive or base form

P.S = Past simple tense and P.P = Past participle

-AmE = American English and BrE = British English

(/ . . . /) = Phonemic transcription of the tense e.g. thought (/θɔ:t/)

Note:

You have noticed that in some verb parts there are two correct forms. A general rule of thumb is that the regular verb option (with -ed) is commonly used in American English, whereas the irregular option is still in use in British English.

e.g. broadcast broadcast / broadcasted broadcast / broadcasted fit fit / fitted fit / fitted

Here's a set of Past Simple Tense exercises based on a short reading passage. These will help learners identify and use the past simple tense in context — ideal for reading comprehension and grammar practice.

Reading Passage: "A Day at the Beach"

Last Saturday, Emma and her family went to the beach. The weather was sunny and warm, so they decided to spend the whole day there. They packed a picnic, brought towels, and left the house early in the morning.

When they arrived, Emma ran straight to the water. She swam, played in the waves, and collected seashells. Her brother built a huge sandcastle while their parents relaxed on the beach. At lunchtime, they sat together and ate sandwiches, fruit, and cookies.

In the afternoon, they walked along the shore and took many pictures. Before going home, they watched the sunset. Everyone felt tired but happy. It was a perfect day.

Exercise 1: Answer the questions in full sentences (use past simple tense)

1. Where did Emma and her family go last Saturday?
 2. What was the weather like?
 3. What did Emma do when she arrived at the beach?
 4. Who built a sandcastle?
 5. What did the family eat for lunch?
 6. What did they do in the afternoon?
 7. How did they feel at the end of the day?

Exercise 2: Find 5 verbs in the past simple tense in the passage and write their base forms

Past Simple Verb Base Form

Went

Swam

Ate

Took

Watched

Exercise 3: Rewrite the passage in the present tense

(For more advanced learners — this helps contrast tenses.)

Example start:

Emma and her family go to the beach. The weather is sunny and warm...

Exercise 4: True or False (Correct if false)

1. Emma and her family went to the beach on Sunday.
2. They left the house in the afternoon.
3. Emma collected seashells at the beach.
4. Her brother swam in the ocean.
5. They felt tired but happy at the end of the day.

LESSON: THE PAST SIMPLE TENSE WITH FORMS OF SENTENCES

Here are the forms of sentences in the Past Simple Tense, including affirmative, negative, and interrogative (question) forms — explained clearly with examples.

1. Affirmative Sentences (Positive Form)

◆ Structure:

Subject + past tense verb + (object/complement)

- Regular verbs: base verb + -ed
- Irregular verbs: change to the specific past form

✓ Examples:

- I watched a movie last night.
 - She visited her grandmother yesterday.
 - They went to the zoo. (irregular)
 - We studied for the test.
 - He bought a new phone. (irregular)

2. Negative Sentences

◆ Structure:

Subject + did not (didn't) + base form of the verb

- Use the base form of the verb (not past form!)
- "Did not" = full form; "didn't" = contracted

✓ Examples:

- I didn't watch the movie.
 - She did not visit her grandmother.
 - They didn't go to the zoo.
 - We didn't study for the test.
 - He didn't buy a new phone.

3. Interrogative Sentences (Questions)

◆ Structure:

Did + subject + base form of the verb + (object/complement)?

- Always use the base form of the verb
- Start with Did

✓ Examples:

- Did you watch the movie?
 - Did she visit her grandmother?

Here are exercises focused on question tags in the Past Simple Tense, designed to help learners practice how to form and use question tags correctly.

Quick Rule Reminder:

✓ 1. Use "did" or "didn't" for most verbs

The Past Simple Tense uses the auxiliary verb "did" in question tags for all regular and irregular verbs except "to be" (was/were).

✓ Rule:

- If the statement is positive, the tag is negative (didn't + subject).
- If the statement is negative, the tag is positive (did + subject).

Examples:

- You watched the movie, didn't you?
 - She didn't call him, did she?
 - They visited Paris last year, didn't they?
 - He didn't like the food, did he?

✓ 2. For "was/were," use "was" or "were" in the tag

When the main verb in the past tense is "was" or "were", use those same forms in the tag.

✓ Rule:

- Positive statement → Negative tag (wasn't/weren't)
- Negative statement → Positive tag (was/were)

Examples:

- She was at the meeting, wasn't she?
 - They were tired after the trip, weren't they?
 - He wasn't there yesterday, was he?
 - You weren't late, were you?

✓ 3. Match the subject in the tag

The subject in the tag must match the subject in the main sentence (in number and person).

Examples:

- John went to the market, didn't he?
 - My parents didn't enjoy the show, did they?
 - The cat was on the roof, wasn't it?

✓ 4. Use appropriate pronouns in the tag

Replace names or nouns with correct subject pronouns in the tag:

Noun	Pronoun in Tag
John	He
Sarah and I	We
The children	They
The dog	It

✗ Common Mistakes to Avoid

Incorrect	Correct
He didn't go, didn't he?	He didn't go, did he?
We was late, wasn't we?	We were late, weren't we?
They didn't arrive, didn't they?	They didn't arrive, did they?

✦ Note: Passive Voice

◆ What is Passive Voice?

The passive voice is used when the focus is on the action or the receiver of the action, rather than who or what is performing the action.

◆ Structure of Passive Voice

Passive voice = [form of "to be"] + [past participle of the verb]

Tense	Active Voice	Passive Voice
Present Simple	The chef cooks the meal.	The meal is cooked by the chef.
Past Simple	She wrote the letter.	The letter was written by her.
Future Simple	They will finish the project.	The project will be finished by them.
Present Perfect	He has cleaned the house.	The house has been cleaned by him.

◆ When Do We Use the Passive Voice?

- When the doer of the action is unknown, unimportant, or obvious.
 - ✓ The window was broken. (We don't know who did it.)
 - When the receiver of the action is more important.
 - ✓ The new bridge was opened yesterday.
 - In formal or scientific writing.
 - ✓ The experiment was conducted in two phases.

◆ Common Passive Voice Clues

- Use of “by” to show the agent/doer (though often omitted).
 - ✓ The cake was baked by my grandmother.
 - Often found in news reports, instructions, and academic texts.

◆ Passive vs Active – Quick Comparison

Active

The teacher explains the topic. The topic is explained by the teacher.
People speak English worldwide. English is spoken worldwide.

Passive

✦ Passive Voice with the Past Simple Tense

◆ Structure:

Subject + was/were + past participle (V3)

- Use “was” for singular subjects.
 - Use “were” for plural subjects.

◆ Examples:

Active Voice

The mechanic fixed the car.

They cleaned the house yesterday.

The students completed the assignment.

Someone stole my wallet.

Police officers arrested the thief.

Passive Voice

The car was fixed by the mechanic.

The house was cleaned yesterday.

The assignment was completed by the students.

My wallet was stolen.

The thief was arrested by police officers.

◆ When do we use it?

- When the focus is on what happened, not who did it.
- When the doer is unknown or not important.

Example: The painting was sold for a million dollars. (We don’t know or care who sold it.)

To show a longer action interrupted by a shorter one (in simple past)	I was walking when it started to rain.
To set the scene in a story or description	The wind was blowing , and the children were laughing .

◆ 4. Question Tags

Follow these rules:

- Use wasn't or weren't depending on the subject.
- The tag should match the auxiliary verb (was/were).

Examples:

- He was sleeping, wasn't he?
- They were working late, weren't they?
- She wasn't crying, was she?

Exercise 6: Question Tags

 Add question tags to the following Past Continuous sentences.

Example: You were sleeping, → You were sleeping, weren't you?

1. He was working late,
2. They weren't listening,
3. She was crying,
4. We weren't joking,
5. It was raining

◆ 5. Active and Passive Voice

✓ Active Voice Structure

Subject + was/were + verb (-ing)

- They were painting the house.

🔄 Passive Voice Structure

Object + was/were + being + past participle

- The house was being painted (by them).

Note: Only transitive verbs (those that take an object) can be used in the passive.

More Examples:

- Active: She was writing a letter.
- Passive: A letter was being written (by her).

Exercise 5: Passive Voice

 Rewrite the sentences in Passive Voice.

Example: They were cleaning the room. → The room was being cleaned.

1. She was writing a letter.
 2. They were building a new school.
 3. He was painting the wall.
 4. We were watching a movie.
 5. The chef was preparing the meal.

◆ 6. Summary Table

Sentence Type	Structure	Example
Affirmative	S + was/were + V-ing	I was reading.
Negative	S + was/were + not + V-ing	I wasn't reading.
Interrogative	Was/Were + S + V-ing?	Were you reading?
Negative Question	Wasn't/Weren't + S + V-ing?	Wasn't he reading?
Passive Voice	O + was/were + being + past participle	The book was being read.
Question Tag	Affirmative + wasn't/weren't + pronoun?	She was singing, wasn't she?

1.5 LETTER WRITING

A letter is a written form of communication that is typically used to convey thoughts, ideas, or information between individuals.

It consists of a series of written words arranged in a specific format, usually on paper.

A letter often begins with a salutation or greeting, followed by the main body of the message, and ends with a closing and the sender's signature. Letters can be personal, professional, or formal, depending on the context and purpose. They can be sent through traditional mail or delivered electronically via email.

There are two main types of letters:

- Formal letter: is a letter written and sent to your leader
- Informal letter/Friendly letter : is a letter written and sent to your friend or your family member

In this unit we shall focus on Friendly letter

A FORMAT OF FRIENDLY LETTER

The Principal,
St. Xavier's School,
New Delhi - 110017

Subject: Request for Permission to Use Playground for Inter-Class Football Match

Dear Sir/Madam,

I am writing on behalf of Class 10B to request permission to use the school playground on 20th September 2025 from 4 PM to 6 PM for an inter-class football match.

This event is part of our leisure activities planned for this term. We assure you that all rules will be followed, and the ground will be left clean after the match.

We kindly request your approval for the same.

Yours faithfully,
Rohan Sharma
(Class Representative, 10B)

✓ Informal Letter Example (Leisure/Sports Context)

Topic: Inviting a friend to a weekend hiking trip

45 Lake View Apartments,
Manali - 175131
15th September 2025

Dear Ankit,

I hope you're doing well! I wanted to tell you about a hiking trip we've planned this weekend to Solang Valley. It's going to be a fun mix of adventure and leisure - perfect for a break from our routine.

We'll be leaving Saturday morning and returning Sunday evening. The weather looks great, and the trail is beginner-friendly. Don't forget your sports shoes and camera!

I really hope you can join us. Let me know soon.

Best wishes,
Vikram

◆ 4. Tips for Writing Letters on Leisure and Sports

- Keep your audience in mind (formal for school/authority, informal for friends).
 - Be clear about time, place, and purpose of the event or issue.
 - Use sports-specific vocabulary (match, tournament, gear, hike, fitness, coach, etc.).
 - Be polite, especially in formal letters.

On 22nd May 2017

Dear Lisa,

Hi! How are you and how are your studies? I wanted to tell you about the music competition that we had at school last weekend.

We had an interesting inter-class music competitions at our school last Friday afternoon, every class presented in front of the whole school. All teachers were present. They were ready to see the best performers. Our class P6A emerged the winner. We danced very well and played the musical instruments properly. Our head teacher congratulated us so much for the performance. I really enjoyed the day.

I wish you all the best and blessings from our Lord. I hope to meet you next time

Your loving friend,

Here are some engaging letter writing activities that incorporate the themes of leisure and sports, suitable for students or any learners practicing writing in a real-world context:

1. Fan Letter to a Favorite Athlete

Objective: Practice formal/informal letter writing.

Instructions:

- Learners choose a sports figure they admire.
- They write a fan letter expressing admiration, asking questions, or sharing how the athlete inspired them.

Focus: Personal tone, letter format, descriptive language.

2. Complaint Letter to a Sports Club or Leisure Center

Objective: Practice formal letter writing and complaint structure.

Scenario:

- The learner recently visited a local leisure center or stadium and faced issues (e.g., poor facilities, canceled event, overpriced tickets).
- Write a formal complaint letter to the management.

Focus: Structure, tone, clear complaint and suggested resolution.

3. Invitation Letter to a Sports Event

Objective: Practice persuasive and inviting language.

Instructions:

- Learners write a letter inviting a friend or family member to attend a sports or leisure event (e.g., football match, yoga retreat, cycling trip).

Focus: Persuasive tone, details of the event (date, time, location, what to bring), friendly style.

4. Thank-You Letter to a Coach or Team Member

Objective: Develop gratitude and reflection skills.

Instructions:

- Learners write a letter thanking a coach, teammate, or sports volunteer for their support or effort during a season or event.

Focus: Emotional tone, reflection, letter etiquette.

5. Postcard from a Sports Holiday

Objective: Creative informal writing.

Scenario:

- The learner imagines they are on a sports vacation (e.g., skiing in Switzerland, surfing in Hawaii, hiking in the Rockies).
- They write a postcard to a friend describing the experience.

Focus: Descriptive language, informal tone, creative imagination.

6. Opinion Letter to a Sports Magazine

Objective: Argumentative writing.

Scenario:

- Learners write a letter to a sports magazine or blog expressing their opinion on a current issue (e.g., equal pay in sports, use of VAR, doping scandals).

Focus: Persuasive techniques, formal tone, structured argument.

7. Pen Pal Letter about Leisure Activities

Objective: Personal and cultural exchange.

Instructions:

- Learners write a letter to a fictional or real pen pal from another country, sharing what sports and leisure activities are popular in their area.

Focus: Cultural comparison, descriptive writing, friendly tone.

Here are several written practice activities for letter writing, structured to help learners build skills progressively. These can be adapted for different levels and linked to leisure and sports topics.

Written Practice Activities for Letter Writing (Leisure & Sports Theme)

1. Label the Parts of a Letter

Type: Identification

Instructions:

Give students a sample letter (formal or informal) and ask them to label parts such as:

- Address
- Date
- Greeting
- Introduction
- Body
- Closing
- Signature

Variation: Use both a formal complaint letter and an informal fan letter about a sports event for contrast.

2. Sentence Sorting – Formal vs. Informal

Type: Language awareness

Instructions:

Provide a mix of phrases and sentences (e.g., “Hey, what’s up?” vs. “I hope this message finds you well”) and have students sort them into:

- Formal (e.g., writing to a sports club)
 - Informal (e.g., writing to a friend about a match)

3. Fill-in-the-Blanks: Letter Scaffold

Type: Guided writing

Instructions:

Provide a partially completed letter, such as an invitation to a sports event or a thank-you note to a coach, and ask learners to complete the blanks.

Example:

Dear Coach [],

Thank you so much for []. I really enjoyed [_____]. Your advice on [_____] helped me improve a lot.

4. Jumbled Letter: Reorder the Paragraphs

Type: Organization practice

Instructions:

Give students the paragraphs of a letter out of order. They must rearrange them into the correct structure. Choose a letter type (e.g., fan mail to an athlete).

5. Rewrite for Tone or Audience

Type: Style awareness

Instructions:

Provide a short letter and ask students to rewrite it either:

- From formal to informal (or vice versa)
- To a different recipient (e.g., from a friend to a coach)

Example:

Original: "Hey, wanna come play soccer on Saturday?"

Rewritten: "Dear John, I would like to invite you to a friendly football match this Saturday."

6. Letter Starters

Type: Writing prompts

Instructions:

Provide sentence starters or prompts and ask students to continue the letter.

Prompts:

- "Last weekend I went to a basketball game and..."
 - "I'm writing to tell you about a new sports club I joined..."
 - "We would be honored to have you join our annual volleyball tournament..."

7. Peer Review Checklist

Type: Reflective writing support

Instructions:

After writing a letter, students exchange their work and use a checklist to give peer feedback.

Checklist might include:

- ✓ Is the tone appropriate (formal/informal)?
 - ✓ Are all parts of the letter included?
 - ✓ Is the purpose of the letter clear?
 - ✓ Is spelling and grammar accurate?

8. Write Both Sides of the Exchange

Type: Creative writing

Instructions:

Students write two letters:

- One from a person inviting someone to a sports event
 - A reply accepting or declining the invitation, with reasons

- ✓ We are going to have a party this weekend. (to have)
- ✓ Lisa is going to visit my friend this afternoon. (to visit)

USE OF “WILL” FOR INTENTION

The future simple tense is used to express future intentions that are decided at the time of speaking (spontaneous offers, promises and decisions):

Come on, I'll help you with those bags. (offer)

I will always love you. (promise)

I'll have a wiener schnitzel. (decision)

In the first person, shall can be used instead of will to announce intentions. Shall is more formal than will:

I shall definitely give up smoking this year.

EXERCISE

Complete the sentences with will + a suitable verb

1. I'm too tired to walk home. I think Itake a taxi.
2. A: 'It's cold in this room'.
B: 'Is it?'on the heating then.
3. A: We haven't got any milk.

Let's /shall we+ infinitive verb (without to)

Examples:

- ✓ Let's go and visit Virunga
- ✓ Let's wear our face masks
- ✓ Let's keep quiet
- ✓ Let's fetch water
- ✓ Shall we keep quiet?
- ✓ Shall we go sleeping?

N.B: Always the question tag about suggestion with let's, is SHALL WE?

Use of “would like...”

We use “would like...” to say politely what we want, especially when making offers and requests.

- Would you like a biscuit with your coffee?
- Can you order for Ellie? She'd like a pizza, please.

Verbs that follow “would like...” are in infinitive form.

- I'd like to become a doctor in the future.
- I'd like to get a return ticket for tomorrow.
- Would you like to listen to that song again?

We use “like...” with “-ing” or “noun/noun phrase” in declarative sentences to say or ask about our preferences and likes in general. We don't use “like...” to express “offers” or “request”.

- Example:
- Do you like dancing? (general like)
 - Do you like rice? (general like).
 - Would you like some rice? (offer)
 - Would you like to dance? (offer/invitation to dance).

Simple present tense of “to be “ and “ to have”

To be	To have
I am You are He is She is It is We are You are They	I have You have He has She has It has We have You have They have

Note: On the third persons: he (Peter John...)

She (Anita Diane...) +main verb+ s/ es

/ies

It (a dog, a forest....)

Examples:

- The sun rises every morning (to rise)
- The sun sets in the west. (to set)
- Mother carries an umbrella every Friday. (carry)
- We wear (to wear) a sweater when it is (to be) cold.

These are some verbs which changes completely:

To be (am, is are),

To have (have/ has)

B. Use of present perfect

Study the following situation

Dan is looking for his key. He can't find it. He has lost it.

He has lost it = he lost it recently, and still doesn't have it now.

More examples

- Oh, I've cut my finger.
- The road is closed. There has been an accident

- The police has arrested two men in connection to the robbery. Investigation has started.

We use the present perfect when we talk about an action in the past but there is connection with now.

- Where is your key? I don't know. I've lost it. (I don't have it now)
- He told me his name yesterday, but I have forgotten it. (I can't remember it now)
- Sally isn't here. He's gone out. (He is out now)
- I can't find my bag. Have you seen it?

You can use the present perfect with words such as: just, already, yet, ever, never

- Are you hungry? 'No, I ve just had lunch (Just = a short time ago)
- Don't forget to send the letter. ' I ve already sent it'
- What time is Mark leaving? 'He's already gone'
- Has it stopped raining yet?
- I ve already written the letter, but I haven't sent it yet.

Use “Yet” only in Questions and negative sentences.

You can use the present perfect when you talk about a period of time that continues from the past until now.

Examples:

- Have you ever eaten strawberries? (in your whole life from past until now)
- Have you read Hamlet? 'No, I haven't read any of Shakespeare's plays. (in your whole life from past until now)
- What a boring film! It's the most boring film I ve ever seen. (in my whole life from past until now).

We use the present perfect with expression of time such as: today, this evening, this week, this month, this year, when these periods are not finished at the time of speaking but the action is in past time.

- ☐ I've drunk four cups of coffee today.
- ☐ Have you had a holiday this year (yet)?
- ☐ I haven't seen Tom this morning. Have you?
- ☐ Rob hasn't studied very hard this term.

We say: It's the first/second time something has happened.

Example: - Don is having his first driving lesson. It's the first time he has driven a car. (not drives).

- Sarah has lost her passport again. This is the second time this has happened. (not happens).
- David is phoning his girlfriend again. That's the third time he's phoned this evening.

Note the difference between: "Have gone to" and "have been to"

Jim is on holiday. He has gone to Italy. (= he is there now or on his way there).

Jane is back home now. She has been to Italy. (= she has now come back. She is at home now).

3.6 FIRST CONDITIONAL (IF-CLAUSE 1) and UNLESS

3.6.1 IF 1 (IF-CLAUSE 1)

If-clause 1 shows

The if clause sentences are consisting of two clauses:

- i) main clause (will/shall+ main verb: Future simple tense)
- ii) if clause (simple present tense)

Examples:

1. If it is windy (be) I will fly (fly) my kite.
2. If it is calm (be) I will skate (skate)board.
3. If she has (have) money she will buy (buy) a cow.
4. I will visit (visit) her if she calls (call) me.
5. Kennedy will be (be) the first if he revises (to revise) his lessons hard.

Conditional/if-clause

Conditional Sentences are also known as Conditional Clauses or If Clauses. They are used to express that the action in the main clause (without if) can only take place if a certain condition (in the clause with if) is fulfilled. There are three types of Conditional Sentences.

Conditional Sentence Type 1

→ It is possible and also very likely that the condition will be fulfilled.

Form:

if + Simple Present → Future Simple (will go)

Example: If I find her address, I'll send her an invitation.

I will send her an invitation if I find her address.

If I don't see him this afternoon, I will phone him in the evening.

Conditional Sentences Type I refer to the future. An action in the future will only happen if a certain condition is fulfilled by that time. We don't know for sure whether the condition actually will be fulfilled or not, but the condition seems rather realistic – so we think it is likely to happen.

Conditional Sentence Type 2

→ It can be either impossible or possible but very unlikely, that the condition can be fulfilled.

Form:

if + Simple Past, → Conditional present (= would + Infinitive).

Example: ~~If I found~~ her address, ~~I would send~~ her an invitation. (possible but unlikely)

If I had a lot of money, I wouldn't stay here. (possible but very unlikely)

If I was/were you, I would not do this. (impossible).

Conditional Sentences Type II refer to situations in the present. An action could happen if the present situation were different. I don't really expect the situation to change, however. I just imagine "what would happen now if".

Example: If John had a lot of money, he would buy a Ferrari.

I know John very well and I know that he doesn't have much money, but he loves Ferraris. He would like to own a Ferrari (in his dreams). But I think it is very unlikely that he will have money to buy one in the near future.

Conditional Sentence Type 3

→ It was impossible to fulfill the condition because something else didn't take place in the past.

if + Past Perfect → Conditional past (= would + have + Past Participle)

Form:

Example: If I had found her address, I would have sent her an invitation.

If I hadn't studied seriously, I wouldn't have passed my exams.

John would have bought a Ferrari if he had had the money.

Conditional Sentences Type III refer to situations in the past. An action could have happened in the past if a certain condition had been fulfilled. Things were different then, however. We just imagine, what would have happened if the situation had been fulfilled.

EXERCISE

Put the verbs in their right form.

1. If he had dropped the vase, it (break).
2. If you have to do the washing up, I (help) you.
3. I (not/run) away if I saw a spider.
4. We'd have given you a lift if you (not/have) your bike with you.
5. If you (listen) to me, the accident wouldn't have happened.
6. If we (not/get) tickets for the concert, we'll stay at home.
7. They'd go by bus if they (not/have) a car.
8. She'll hear us if you (not/stop) laughing.
9. He (not/take) the bread if he hadn't been hungry.
10. If he dropped the vase, it (break).

The conditional can also be expressed by the use of inversion. This is used to put an emphasis on the condition.

- Did Rosie invite me, I would attend her wedding. (= If Rosie invited, I would attend her wedding).
- Were I you, I wouldn't make such a mistake. (If I were you, I wouldn't make such a mistake).
- Had I known you were in hospital, I'd have come to see you. (If I had known you were in hospital, I would have come to see you).

EXERCISE

ii. Rewrite the following sentences as instructed.

1. I didn't get the invitation. I would have attended her birthday party. (begin by: if).
2. She didn't come to see you because she was not aware you were in hospital. (rewrite with: if)

9. You can't see my friend Jack if you don't go to the cinema. (rewrite using: unless).
10. We cannot swim comfortably unless the water is deep enough. (rewrite using: If).
11. I don't go out a lot because I don't have a lot of friends here. (rewrite using: if).
12. Mary would arrive on time if she didn't miss the first bus. (use inversion)
13. Did we go to the cinema now, we could see my friend Jacob. (use If).

Complete the Conditional Sentences (Type III) by putting the verbs into the correct form.

1. If you (study) for the test, you (pass) it.
2. If you (ask) me, I (help) you.
3. If we (go) to the cinema, we (see) my friend Jacob.

4. If you (speak) English, she (understand) .
5. If they (listen) to me, we (be) home earlier.
6. I (write) you a postcard if I (have) your address.
7. If I (not / break) my leg, I (take part) in the contest.
8. If it (not/ start) to rain, we (walk) to the museum.
9. We (swim) in the sea if there (not / be) so many sharks there.
10. If she (take) the bus, she (not / arrive) on time.

3.6.1 Unless

Unless means if.....do not

Examples:

1. I will not come in your party if you don't inform me soon.
Unless you inform me soon, I will not come in your party.
 I will not come in your party unless you inform me soon.
2. If you don't revise hard, you will not pass national examination
Unless you revise hard, you will not pass national examination.

II. THE RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE LEADERS OF DEBATE

1. CHAIRPERSON: he/she conducts the debate and make sure that the debaters observe the rules of debating and treat each other fairly and with respect.
2. Judges: listening carefully to every word of every speech, making a comparative assessment based on three core criteria: content, style and strategy and selecting the winner based on each team's arguments, evidence and clash.

3. Debate secretary: taking notes of everything that happens in a debate, including forms from both teams and relevant information.
4. Timekeeper: maintain the debate's time limit and signal speakers for time increments and ensure equal speaking opportunities for all participants.

Debate Roles: The Responsibilities of Each Debater

Debates often take place between two opposing teams, the affirmative team (supports the motion) and the negative team (disagrees with the motion). A team usually comprises three people, each of whom has unique roles and responsibilities, depending on their sequence of speech. Knowing the specific contributions of each speaker will help you become a more flexible and adaptable debater, so you can always excel regardless of which position you take.

Role of the first affirmative speaker in a debate

The first affirmative speaker is the very first speaker who opens a round of debate. Therefore, they have the advantage of being able to set the tone. The first affirmative speaker's main role is to lay out their team's case. After introducing the motion, the first affirmative speaker is responsible for stating their team's definition of the terms within the motion. They should also provide an outline of their team's arguments by briefly covering what they and each of the following speakers on their team will be talking about. Finally, they should state and elaborate on their own argument, making sure to support it with evidence before closing their speech.

Role of the first negative speaker in a debate

The first negative speaker follows the first affirmative speaker. Their task is similar to that of their predecessor, in that they need to outline their team's stance. However, they have the extra task of rebutting the first affirmative speaker's points. In fact, they could start their speech by stating whether they agree or disagree with the affirmative team's definition of the motion. If they disagree with the definition, they ought to provide and justify an alternative definition. After defining the motion and outlining the negative team's case, they should develop an argument of their own and defend it with relevant facts and figures before concluding their speech.

Role of the second affirmative speaker in a debate

The second affirmative speaker is mainly responsible for rebutting the first negative speaker's points and stating their own points. Because the second affirmative speaker does not need to define the motion or outline their team's case, they get the benefit of having more time to spend on building their case. Naturally, this is where the bulk of the affirmative team's case should be. Ideally, the second affirmative speaker can cover two to three points, ultimately closing their speech with concluding remarks that summarize their points.

Role of the second negative speaker in a debate

The second negative speaker possesses a similar role to their positive counterpart. They rebut the second affirmative speaker's points and state their own points, too. Similarly, the majority of the negative team's case should be explained by the second negative speaker, as they do not need to introduce or summarize the team's points.

Role of the third affirmative speaker in a debate

The third affirmative speaker is responsible for rebutting the second negative speaker's points and wrapping up the affirmative team's case. Because most of the negative team's points should have been explained by the second speaker, the third affirmative speaker is placed in a unique position to undermine the negative team's case. Furthermore, the third affirmative speaker's presentation should leave a lasting positive impression on the debate adjudicator as they are the last opportunity for the affirmative team to make a case. Summarizing their team's points refreshes the knowledge in the adjudicator's minds. Therefore, the third affirmative speaker should be especially organized to end the debate on a strong note.

Role of the third negative speaker in a debate

The third negative speaker ends the round of debate, allowing them to have the literal last word. Therefore, they shall not squander this opportunity. Instead, the third negative speaker should rebut the third affirmative speaker's points and succinctly summarize the arguments that their peers have put forth. A strong third negative speaker can truly change the outcome of the debate, even without any new points.

iii. points used in debate

1. Point of information(POI): a brief question or statement that a member of the opposing team can make during a debate to challenge, clarify or rebut an argument.
2. Point of order: formal objections raised during the debate when a participant believes that the rules are not being followed. This mechanism ensures that discussions adhere to established guidelines, allowing participants to maintain the integrity of the debate and ensure fair play.
3. Point of inquiry: a question asked to the chairs of the debate for more information about the debate.
4. Point of education: this is raised when a speaker from another side makes a mistake in grammar, spelling.....
5. Point of supplement: used when somebody want to add something upon what the member of his/her team have said to make it more clear.
6. Point of support: support takes many forms: data, facts, experience, expert opinion, textual evidence, emotional appeals... this point is raised to support (offer the help) your team member.

iv. DEBATING IN SCHOOLS

Coaching a school's debating team can be one of the most profoundly rewarding experiences in a teacher's career. Far beyond academic results, there's something inherently worthwhile in watching students gain confidence and the ability to articulate their understanding of real-world issues. But where to start? At first sight schools debating can be a minefield of incomprehensible acronyms, rules and formats. If you are wondering how to teach debating in schools, these are the tips that I've found handy:

1. Start with a purpose: debating is an incredibly broad church and it can accomplish a huge range of fantastic outcomes for your students.
2. Get everyone involved: the structure of competitive debating is mostly such that students are given dedicated five to seven-minutes window to make their speech and can only be interrupted at designated times with 'points of information' which can be politely refused. This allows the students who otherwise may have been cowed by their more confident peers to showcase their skills, often resulting in some phenomenal performances from those you may not have expected.
3. Choose relevant topics: whatever format your club is making, make sure you choose debating motions which are genuinely engaging to the age range.
4. Build network: once your group has met a few times, it's a good idea to reach out to other schools and see if they are willing to meet for competitions or one-off debates.
5. Tryout competitions: entering competitions may not be for every school but I strongly recommend it a go.
6. Fuel the passion: for those students taken to debating, give them as much ownership of their progress and how your club is run possible. encourage students to independent learning and research

Sentences Connectors of contrast and similarity

Sentence connectors are used to express relationships between ideas and to combine sentences. The use of these connectors will add beauty and sophistication to your writing style. Sentence connectors are also referred to as linking language. There are a number of forms of sentence connectors such as:

1. Conjunctions, which connect two simple ideas:

The teacher discussed French and German history.

2. Coordinating conjunctions which connect two phrases or simple sentences:

Jennifer would like to visit Kigali, and she would like to spend some time in Nyamata.

3. Subordinating conjunctions connect a dependent and an independent clause:

Just as it's important to win, it's important to play the game.

4. Conjunctive adverbs are used to connect one sentence to another:

Children get plenty of exercise at our school. Similarly, they enjoy extensive art programs.

Prepositions must be used with nouns rather than full phrases:

Like Ruhango, Gitarama is located in the South of Rwanda in Southern Province.

Generally, sentence connectors can indicate opposition between ideas, cause and effect, similarity and contrasting ideas and setting conditions.

In comparison-contrast essays, connectors help create coherence by indicating the relationship between ideas in sentences.

Wh- Clauses

WH-word clauses get their name from the fact that most of the words that introduce them begin with the letters “wh”. There are ten WH-words. Six of them are pronouns; four are adverbs:

The pronouns are: who, whose, whom, which, what (that is often used instead of which or who).

The adverbs are: where, when, why, how.

There are two kinds of WH-word clauses. - WH-word dependent (or subordinate) clauses.

- WH-word question clauses.

The two kinds function quite differently, but they’re almost identical in construction.

1. WH-Word Questions

We can ask three different types of questions. There are:

a) “yes-or-no” questions:

- Are you still engaged to that playboy?
- Is it possible to whistle while eating pancakes?

b) “alternative” or “choice” questions:

- Should we send the letter to the Mayor or Minister?
- Which exam are we going to start with- Maths or Physics?

But when we're looking for "new" information, as opposed to choosing between things that are already identified, we have to ask

c) WH-word questions:

It's said that apprentice reporters are taught to ask: "who? what? where? How? when? and why?" in every situation. Here are some WH-word questions:

1. Who let the cat out of the bag?
2. Whose bag was it?
3. Who (or whom) did the Minister nominate for Migration Director?
4. What happened to that list of elephant jokes?
5. What good is a listless shopper?
6. Which birds have applied to molt?
7. Why did you give Fang all the hors d'oeuvres?
8. Exactly when and where will the next hissing conference be held?
9. How did you manage to put a howdah on a flea?
10. How many yuppies can dance on the hood of a BMW?

2. The Functioning of WH-Word Dependent Clauses

WH-Word Adjective Clauses

A WH-word adjective clause almost always follows immediately after the noun or pronoun it modifies:

Any duck which refuses to migrate will be fired from the flock. [The "which" clause modifies duck.]

I pity the young girl who will marry you. [The "who" clause modifies the young girl.]

Maestro Koffi, who(m) we invited to speak at our culture rally, is willing to appear for peanuts.

Anyone whose car was parked before the main gate should go and give path to others. [The "whose" clause modifies anyone.]

Relative Pronouns and Relative Clauses

There are only a few relative pronouns in the English language. The most common are: who, whom, which, whose, whoever, whomever. In some situations, the words what, when, and where can also function as relative pronouns. Because there are only a few of them, there are also just a few rules for using relative pronouns.

Relative clause is the part of the sentence that tells us what person or what thing the speaker is talking about. Relative clause is introduced by a relative pronoun. The word that the pronoun replaces/stands for is called its antecedent.

Examples:

I bought a new car. The car is very fast.

→ The car which/that I bought is very fast. (that replaces “The car” is the antecedent of “that”)

She will get married to the boy. You see the boy over there.

→ She will get married to the boy whom/who/that you see over there. (the antecedent of “whom/who/that” is “the boy”).

3. WH-Word Noun Clauses

“WH-word noun clauses” are like noun phrases in that they function as subjects or objects.

a) WH-Word Noun Clauses as Subjects

What Carlos can do with one thousand will amaze you. [The “what” clause is the subject of will amaze.]

Why Salma suddenly burst into tears no longer remains a mystery. [The “why” clause is the subject of the verb remains.]

When the rainy season begins depends on where you are. [When the rainy season begins is the subject of depends.]

WH-Word Noun Clauses as objects of verbs

The neighbors finally realized what we had told them, too late.

The neighbors finally realized why we had told them to rehabilitate the fence.

Where, When

Where, when, can both introduce subordinating.

- ❖ When Frank phoned, I was having lunch with Mr. Haben.
- ❖ I simply don't know when Khaled phoned.

- ❖ A buzzard like him always knows where the best carrion is.
- ❖ Intelligent buzzards spend the winter where the best carrion is.

Examinations

The timetable is up on the board
 The teachers are all there
 Whether tired or hungry
 It takes dedication
 To educate a nation
 The busy time is now,
 Teachers testing candidates,
 Testing to see what they know.
 Candidates may sometimes panic
 As they prepare and hope to harvest
 what they sowed.

Hard work is the key to success,
 The going is rough and tough,
 As candidates usually say,
 They pass all the same
 Even when the going gets tough and rough

Tough a; the exam may prove to be,
My brother, never be discouraged,
My sister, have the zeal and interest,
YOU deserve a cake, a coke and more, Success i;
indeed worth celebrating

ASPECT: ARTICLES “a”, “an” and the Content: Use of “a”, “an” and “the”

- i. Article “a” is used before a countable noun
e.g A car, a man, a boy, a match box, a chair.
- ii. It also begins with a vowel letter whose sound is consonant
e.g a European, a university.
- iii. It is also used to refer to an incident taking place for the first time
e.g. I saw a boy chasing a hen.
- iv. “An” is used with words bearing vowel sounds like “H” e.g an hour, an heir, an honest man
 - Give me an orange please
 - Have you ever seen an elephant?
 - That is an honorable member of parliament.

Article “an” is used for nouns that appear for the first time just like article “a” e.g. An accident has happened at the railway station.

N.B: Article “an” is not used with proper nouns like human beings.

e.g. you cannot say “an Agnes”

THE DEFINITE ARTICLE “THE”

1. “The” is used to refer to a noun that is already known or established.
2. It can be used with both singular countable nouns and nouns that start with vowel letters.
E.g. the egg, the axe, I met a shabby boy and the boy was a thief.
3. “The” is used to refer to one important event or person, place or ceremony
e.g. the River Nile, the Caribbean, the Zulu, the airport.
4. It is also used when referring to proper nouns.
e.g. the Bible, the Quran, the Argentine.
5. “The” is also used to specify nouns in a point

ARTICLES

These are 'a', 'an', 'the'

Article "a"

The singular common nouns which start with consonants take the article "a" before them.

These consonants are b,c,d,f,g,h,j,k,l,m,n,p,q,r,s,t,v,w,x,y,z

Examples

A kite, a boy, a tree, a mango, a car

Words with vowels but having consonant sounds e.g. a European , a university , a one way street, a Ugandan, a ewe.

Article "an"

The singular common nouns which start with vowels take the article "an" before them. These vowels are; a, e, i , o, u

Examples

An example, an orange, an ant , an elephant , an ox

However, some words which begin with a consonant but sound like a vowel also take "an" before them. e.g an hour, an heir, an x-ray, an honest an honourable member.

Article "the"

This article is used for the class, definite things, superlative degree, some rivers and mountains, countries, islands and water bodies.

We always use it with nouns already known very well.

Examples

The kind, the poor, the rich

The moon, the sun, the soil

The biggest boy, the most beautiful girl

The Nile, The Amazon, The Red sea

The Rwenzori , The Himalayas , The United States of America.

NB.

“The” is used in front of all common nouns except proper nouns or when referring to something for second time and thereafter.

When the listener knows exactly what the speaker is talking about. E.g. shut the door

“The” is used to refer to one thing or group of things commonly known e.g. the moon etc

I. Arrange the sentences below to make a sensible story about Alfred. He goes to the dining table to have breakfast. /9 MARKS

- S .

I don't use the daily food, like my friend does.

My friend takes people to various places,

I have never failed to do the same,

He carries their luggage,

I also have my carrier,

But they say he is more important.

You sit in my friend to drive,

I also have a saddle where you sit while riding me,

His steering wheel helps you change direction,

My handle bars do the same,

But they say he is more important than me,
Because he moves faster than me.

When my master gets rich,

He puts me aside,

He starts moving with my friend,

Without his daily food, my friend can't move,

In narrow paths, I am the only one,

Master, when will you see my great importance!

SPEECHES

There are two types of speeches; direct and indirect speech.

Direct speech

In direct speech, one reports using the actual words of the speaker. It is made of two parts:

- The speech tag
- The actual words used.

These actual words used always start with a capital letter and must be between quotation marks “.....”

Examples

I said (speech tag) – “I am learning English now” (actual words)

He says (speech tag) – “Don’t eat this food” (Actual words)

INDIRECT SPEECH

In indirect speech, one reports but not using the actual words of the speaker. It is made of three parts:

- The speech tag
- The conjunction (joining word)
- The said words

Examples:

1. I said that I was learning English then.

2. She says that she eats meat every Sunday

3. We can change from direct speech to indirect speech and vice versa

Words that change when changing from direct to indirect speech

9.6 DESCRIBING WHAT PARENTS REQUIRE

Requirements are like things you are asking.

Examples:

1. Please, go to sleep, my father
My father asked me to go to sleep
2. Please sweep this house, asked father
Father asked me to sweep that house
3. My grandmother told me, please wash your clothes
My grandmother requested me to wash my clothes

9.7 SAYING WHEN SOMEONE WAS ANGRY AND GIVING ADVICE

As we saw in the previous units, we need to use the modal verbs like should/shouldn’t and need to/ need not to

In this unit we shall focus on the modal verb ought as one we can also use to give advice

Examples:

1. You ought to arrange your room
2. You ought to obey your parents.
3. You ought to calm down when you get angry.
4. You ought not to fight
5. You ought not to insult your partner.

UNIT 10: THE SOLAR SYSTEM

READING: THE SOLAR SYSTEM

Ever thought of the beauty of the sky at night? The moon and the stars that shine at night are part of the solar system. It also consists of the sun, planets, comets and asteroids. The planets revolve around the sun on their own axis. Mercury is the closest planet to the sun. It is 47 million kilometers from the sun. it is also the smallest planet. Its diameter is 4,878 kilometers. The biggest planet is Jupiter. It measures 139,822 kilometers across.

QUESTIONS:

1. What does the solar system consist of?
The solar system consists of the sun, planets, comets and asteroids.
2. Which one is the closest planet to the sun?
Mercury is the closest planet to the sun.
3. Which one is the largest planet?
Jupiter is the largest planet.
4. Is the Earth bigger than Mercury?
Yes, it is.
5. What is the distance of the Earth from the sun?
The distance from the Earth to the sun is 150 000 000 km.

Read the text below and answer the questions that follow.

The solar system

The sun and the planets and other space bodies that move around it make up the solar system. One complete rotation around the sun is known as an orbit. There are 8 planets in the solar system. These planets are grouped into two groups.

The first group is known as the Inner Solar System. It is made up of Mercury, Venus, Earth and Mars. These four planets are the ones that are closest to the sun. Another name for these planets is terrestrial planets because their surfaces are made up of rocks.

The second group is known as the Outer Solar System and it is made up of Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus and Neptune. The other name for these planets is gas giants.

The inner and outer planets are separated by the asteroid belt. An asteroid is simply a piece of rock. The asteroid belt is filled with rocks. In addition to the planets and the asteroid belt, the solar system is also made up of moons, comets, dust, gas and dwarf or minor planets.

Questions

- a) What is an orbit according to the passage?
.....
- b) State the elements that make up the inner solar system.
.....
- c) What separates the inner planets from the outer planets?
.....
- d) Explain the meaning of asteroid.
.....
- e) Draw the solar system in your exercise books.
.....

Dwarf planets

Have you ever heard of dwarf planets? Dwarf planets are planets that are smaller than the moon.

There are five dwarf planets that have now been identified. These are Eris, Haumea, Makemake, Ceres and Pluto.

Pluto was recently demoted to a dwarf planet after astronomers confirmed that it was smaller than Eris. Of all the dwarf planets, Eris is the largest.

Scientists also believe that there are many other dwarf planets that are yet to be discovered.

Oral Activity 1

- a. What do you think the universe is made up of? Name and briefly explain the different types of planets.
- b. Describing the solar system

Activity 2

1. Arrange the words below in alphabetical order.

astronomer astronomy satellites galaxy asteroid comet planet astronaut revolve solar distance rotation diameter orbit.

.....
2. Use a dictionary or the internet to find out the meaning of each of the words.

3. Use at least five words from the words above to write correct sentences.

.....
.....
.....
Activity 3: Discuss the following questions and write down your answers. Present your answers to the rest of the class.

a) Find out the eight planets that make up the solar system.

.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
b) What planet is closest to the sun?

.....
c) Which planets have rings?

.....
d) Which is the biggest planet?

e) Which small planet was recently removed from the list of planets?

10.2 VOCABULARY

- Earth: is the planet we live on.
- Planet: large around body.
- Solar system: the sun, moon, planets and asteroids.
- Near: close by.
- Big: large in size.
- Far: a long distance a way.
- Sky: the space above the earth that is seen when you look up.
- Diameter: straight line going through one end of circle to the other through the center
- Space: is the area beyond the earth's atmosphere.
- MORE WORDS FROM THE RED TEXTBOOK,Page 158/9.

THE STRUCTURE OF THE SOLAR SYSTEM

10.3 OPPOSITES

- First ≠ last
- Far ≠ near
- Closest ≠ far/ distant
- Hot ≠ cold
- Light ≠ dark
- Hard ≠ soft
- Inferior ≠ superior

10.4 LANGUAGE STRUCTURE

10.4.1 Describing the solar system

A table shows distances from sun to the planets and their diameters

PLANETS	Distance from the sun in km	Diameter in km
Mercury	46 million	4,880
Venus	107 million	12,100
Earth	147 million	12,760
Mars	205 million	6,790
Jupiter	741 million	142,980
Saturn	1.35 billion	120,540
Uranus	2.75 billion	51,120
Neptune	4.45 billion	49,530

Notice:

- The sun is the largest body in our solar system
- The sun is very hot at 6900°C
- Light from the sun to the earth takes 8 minutes

- The moon is 384 403km from the Earth
- The moon takes 29.5 days to orbit the Earth.
- Mercury is the nearest and smallest planet to the sun.
- Jupiter is the biggest planet.
- Saturn is the largest planet.
- Venus is the hottest planet.
- Earth is the only planet that has life because there is oxygen
- Neptune is the furthest planet.

10.4.2 Describing planets and their moon

A planet is a large round body in space that moves around the star and receives the light from that star.

Examples: The Earth receives light from the sun

Planets	Number of moons
Mercury	No moon
Venus	No moon
Earth	1
Mars	2
Jupiter	67
Saturn	62
Uranus	27
Neptune	14

Activity 3

LESSON: DESCRIBING KEY EVENTS IN SPACE TRAVEL

Read and role-play the dialogue below.

Jane: Look, there comes a funnily dressed person!

Peter: The person looks like an astronaut.

Astronaut: Good afternoon, pupils.

Pupils: Good afternoon, sir.

Astronaut: My Name is Neil, I am an astronaut. Do you know who an astronaut is?

Philip: Yes, sir. An astronaut is a person who travels to space.

Astronaut: Very well, young man. And how do astronauts travel to space?

Mary: They use a rocket, sir.

Astronaut: True. Space is very far away from earth. One has to use a special vessel called a rocket to travel to space.

Jane: Sir, have you ever been to the moon?

Astronaut: Yes, Jane. I was the first man to walk on the moon. It was the best day of my life!

Peter: That must have been a funny experience. Sir, does every planet have a moon like the one we see at night?

Astronaut: Not all of them, there are two planets that do not have a moon. There are others that have one or two. There are also others that have very many moons.

Mary: Wow, the planets with very many moons must be hot!

Astronaut: No, Mary. Moons do not have any heat. In fact, the planets that have the highest number of moons are the coldest.

Philip: But why does the moon shine if it does not have heat?

Astronaut: What we see is a reflection from the light from the sun. It is just light. There is no heat.

Pupils: Thank you very much, sir. We have learnt a lot.

Questions:

- a) Which vessel is used when travelling to space?

.....
b) What is the name of the astronaut?
.....

c) How many planets do not have moons?
.....

d) Why are the planets that have the highest number of moons the coldest?
.....

10.5 COMPARATIVE & SUPERLATIVE FORM OF ADJECTIVES

a) The comparative form of the adjectives:

The comparatives are the words used to compare 2 persons; animals or things.

► We form the comparatives by adding -er to the given adjective.

Examples:

Adjectives	Comparatives
Fast	Faster
Slow	Slower
Loud	Louder
Hard	Harder
High	Higher
Short	Shorter
Long	Longer
Small	Smaller
Tall	Taller

Notice 1: For the adjectives that are ended by -e we add -r only.

Examples:

Adjectives	Comparatives
Large	Larger
Fine	finer
Late	Later
Nice	Nicer
wise	Wiser

Notice 2: For the adjectives ended by -y “we change -y into -i” then we add -er “for the comparatives.

Examples:

Adjectives	Comparatives
Happy Easy Early Lazy Greedy Pretty	Happier Easier Earlier Lazier Greedier Prettier

b)The superlative form of the adjectives ;

We form the superlatives of the adjectives by adding “-est”

Examples:

Adjectives	Comparatives
Fast Slow Loud Hard High Short Long Small Tall	Fastest Slowest Loudest Hardest Highest Shortest Longest Smallest Tallest

Notice 1 : For the adjectives ended by “ -e “ we add only “-st”.

Examples:

Adjectives	Comparatives
Large Fine Nice Late Wise	Largest Finest Nicest Latest Wisest

Notice 2: For the adjectives ended by “-y “we change -y into “-i” then we add “-est” for the superlatives or “-er “for the comparatives.

Examples:

Adjectives	Comparatives
Happy Easy Early	Happier Easier Earlier

Lazy	Lazier
Greedy	Greedier
Pretty	Prettier

Relationship between the comparative and the superlative forms:

Adjectives	Comparatives	Superlatives
Happy	Happier	Happiest
Easy	Easier	Easiest
Early	Earlier	Earliest
Lazy	Lazier	Laziest
Greedy	Greedier	Greediest
Pretty	Prettier	Prettiest
Fast	Faster	Fastest
Slow	Slower	Slowest
Loud	Louder	Loudest
Hard	Harder	Hardest
High	Higher	Highest
Short	Shorter	Shortest
Long	Longer	Longest
Small	Smaller	Smallest
Tall	Taller	Tallest
Large	Larger	Largest
Fine	finer	Finest
Late	Later	Nicest
Nice	Nicer	Latest
wise	Wiser	Wiseest
